Company Logo

Company Logo.

Name, company logo, colours, typeface: these are the pillars of the identity of the company.

Their characteristics ensure an individual and consistent image of the company on the market.

The graphic of the definitive logo is very clean, square, linear, essential, strong and emphasizes the values of the brand.
The logo is a graphic comprised of a wordmark (logotype).

The logo should be always produced from the master artwork.
The only time you should use the symbol alone is on the website or social media channels where there are other elements to help the user recognise the brand.

LyRise logo can exist with an “inverted” colour scheme, which means that the main colour is white and the background is purple.

The monochromatic version has been specifically designed to meet some specific printing requirements.
They should not be used in other circumstances.

The LyRise logo is displayed in a vibrant purple color on a white background. It features a wordmark where the 'y' in 'Ly' is stylized with a thick, curved line that loops around the 'R' in 'Rise'. A small 'TM' trademark symbol is positioned to the upper right of the word 'Rise'.

Designing a logo and a visual identity goes way beyond the free form and artistic side of what most people think. There is all the rational part including proportions, scaleability optical adjustments and reproduction that has to be thought in order to create an efficient and well design logo. The visual design guidelines will provide this information to ensure that the brand is used correctly. Here we want to illustrate the construction or guidelines of our logo.

Clear Space.

We've defined an exclusion zone that stops other graphic elements interfering with LyRise logotype and make sure the logo is easy to read. Proportions, space and size relationships of all blocks have been carefully developed and must not be altered, redrawn, embellished or recreated in any way. An important part of maintaining a consistent presentation is keeping a clear space around the logo from other text, graphics or illustrations. Crowding the logo detracts from its legibility and impact.

App Icon / Favicon

32 x 32px

The logo should never be too small to read.

It is not recommended to use the logo at less than 20mm or 60 pixels in width.

LyRise favicon graphic is linked with the website: it is a smaller representation of the brand for the browser and for the mobile interfaces. Take into account that the favicon is not the brand logo and should never replace the logo.

Incorrect Usage.

The logo must be used as it is and not be altered in any way; this means that you MUST NOT:

- Change the logo's orientation or rotation.
- Disproportionately scale the logo.
- Change the logo's colors to Secondary Colors.
- Display the logo with colour combinations not previously specified.

- Display the logo in a configuration not previously specified.
- Attempt to recreate the logo.
- Make alterations to the logo's text.
- Add special effects to the logo.

- Add an outline to the logo or display the logo as an outline.
- Display other elements within the logo's designated clear space.
- Crop the logo in any way.

Logo on Photographs.

Care must be taken to create well balanced and considered compositions: photography is a key part of the identity and the use of color should always feel complimentary to the image. When placing the logo over photography please choose a pale area of the image to maintain sufficient stand out.

Logo on Photographs.

When the image is too crowded, use a background Glow to make the logo stand out.

Typography.

Typography.

Typography is a powerful tool in the development of a creative identity and is a key element to create a cohesive look across all communications. Using a typeface consistently makes it recognisable; it pulls together communications and makes them more distinctive. The style of type we use to bring our communication to life sets the tone of our brand: clean, modern, stylish, distinctive and legible. Selected fonts are a great combination between serif and sans-serif: Proxima Nova

Glossary.

Corporate Identity

A corporate identity is the overall image of a corporation or firm or business in the minds of diverse publics, such as customers and investors and employees. It is a primary task of the company communications department to maintain and build this identity to accord with and facilitate the attainment of business objectives.

Identity Manual

A formal reference document establishing technical and creative standards for a visual identity system. Typical standards include descriptions and specifications for reproducing the logo or logotype stationery system, common print and web applications and examples of use on merchandise.

Logo

A logo is a graphic mark or emblem commonly used by commercial enterprises, organizations and even individuals to aid and promote instant public recognition. Logos are either purely graphic (symbols/icons) or are composed of the name of the organization (a logotype or wordmark).

Typeface/Font Family

In typography, a typeface (also known as font family) is a set of one or more fonts each composed of glyphs that share common design features. Each font of a typeface has a specific weight, style, condensation, width, slant, italicization, ornamentation, and designer or foundry. There are thousands of different typefaces in existence, with new ones being developed constantly.

Stationery

Stationery has historically pertained to a wide gamut of materials: paper and office supplies, writing implements, greeting cards, glue, pencil cases and other similar items.

Template

A pre-developed page layout in electronic or paper media used to make new pages with a similar design, pattern, or style.

Brand

Brand is the “name, term, design, symbol, or any other feature that identifies one seller’s product distinct from those of other sellers.” Initially, branding was adopted to differentiate one person’s cattle from another’s by means of a distinctive symbol burned into the animal’s skin with a hot iron stamp and was subsequently used in business, marketing, and advertising.

CMYK

The CMYK color model (process color, four color) is a subtractive color model, used in color printing, and is also used to describe the printing process itself. CMYK refers to the four inks used in some color printing: cyan, magenta, yellow, and key (black). The “K” in CMYK stands for key because in four-color printing, cyan, magenta, and yellow printing plates are carefully keyed, or aligned, with the key of the black key plate.

RGB

The RGB color model is an additive color model in which red, green, and blue light are added together in various ways to reproduce a broad array of colors. The name of the model comes from the initials of the three additive primary colors, red, green, and blue.

Primary Colors

The core selection of identifying colors that are used in a logo.

Palette

A given, finite set of colors for the management of digital images.
